Understanding Blepharoplasty (Eyelid

Surgery)

Blepharoplasty is a surgical procedure that removes or repositions excess skin, muscle, and fat from the upper and/or lower eyelids, addressing droopiness, puffiness, and a tired appearance.

Many people considering Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) have questions or feel a little unsure about where to start — that's completely normal. Our team takes time during your first visit to explain things in plain language, so you can make a confident, informed decision at your own pace.

Signs You May Be a Good Candidate

You might be a good fit for this treatment if any of the following sound familiar:

- Individuals with sagging or droopy upper eyelids
- Patients with under-eye bags or puffiness
- Those whose vision is affected by excess upper eyelid skin

The best way to know for sure is a one-on-one consultation, where your surgeon reviews your health history and goals in detail.

How Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) Works: Step by Step

Step 1: Consultation & Evaluation

You'll meet with your surgeon to discuss your goals, medical history, and concerns. This is the time to ask questions and understand whether Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) is right for you.

Step 2: Personalized Planning

Your surgeon examines your body structure and designs a plan for Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) that fits your anatomy, so results look natural and balanced.

Step 3: The Procedure

Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) is performed in a modern, sterile operation theatre under appropriate anesthesia, following strict safety protocols throughout.

Step 4: Recovery & Follow-Up

You're monitored closely after the procedure, with clear aftercare instructions and scheduled follow-up visits to track healing and results.

Our Approach

Depending on whether the upper eyelids, lower eyelids, or both are treated, excess skin and fat are carefully removed or repositioned through incisions placed along natural eyelid creases to minimize visible scarring.

Benefits

Here's what patients typically gain from Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery):

- ✓ Brighter, more youthful eye appearance
- ✓ Correction of droopy eyelids and eye bags
- ✓ Improved upper peripheral vision in select cases
- ✓ Minimal, well-hidden scarring

Recovery Timeline

Recovery looks a little different for everyone, but here's a general idea of what to expect:

Swelling and bruising generally resolve within 1–2 weeks, with most patients returning to normal routines shortly after.

Your surgeon will give you a personalized recovery plan, along with clear guidance on activity levels, medication, and follow-up visits, so healing stays on track.

Pricing

The cost of Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) depends on factors like the technique used, extent of treatment, and your individual assessment — so we don't quote a fixed price online. Contact us at 9639635454 / 9133733733 for personalized, tentative pricing after a consultation. (Editor note: replace this placeholder with confirmed price ranges once finalized.)

Scars & Marks

Incisions are placed along the natural creases of the upper eyelid or just below the lash line on the lower eyelid, so scars are extremely well concealed and fade further over time.

Safety & Things to Consider

Like any surgical procedure, this treatment carries general surgical risks, which your surgeon will explain in detail during consultation. At Sculpt Aesthetics, we follow international safety standards, strict infection-control protocols, and modern operation theatre facilities to keep every procedure as safe as possible. A thorough medical evaluation before surgery helps make sure the procedure is right for you.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is the procedure painful? Most patients feel minimal discomfort during Blepharoplasty (Eyelid Surgery) itself, since it is performed under anesthesia. Some soreness in the days after is normal and manageable with prescribed medication.

How long does the surgery take? This depends on the extent of the procedure and will be explained clearly during your consultation, once your specific plan is finalized.

When will I see the final results? You'll notice initial changes as swelling reduces over the first few weeks, with final results becoming clearer over the following months.

Can upper and lower eyelid surgery be done together? Yes, many patients choose to treat both areas in a single session for a more complete refresh, as advised by your surgeon.

Will eyelid surgery change how my eyes look permanently? Results are long-lasting, though natural aging will continue; most patients enjoy a refreshed appearance for many years.
